

New animal discovered!

Imagine that an insect called the Ticklebug has been discovered that has not been seen before.

An information book about these creatures is being prepared.

Your task is to write the words for the page that explains the life cycle of this insect.

You can make up the information from your imagination, or using facts from different animals that you know.

Planning

What is a Ticklebug?

Early stages

Later stages

Egg stage

Adult stage

